The Gold Hill News of last evening remarks that the rate at which the upper portion of Gold Hill is settling is illustrated by the pulling apart of the water and gas pipes which traverse Main street. All that part of the town within the vicinity of this office is gradually sliding down hill, the crevice south of Fort Homestead being really a gauge by which the extent of the sliding may be accurately judged. The gas pipe on Main street was repaired thoroughly last Fall. In examining the joints this morning it was found that some of them had pulled out of their connections two or three inches, scarcely one remaining in its proper position. At the bottom of the hill below the scales, the ground is comparatively solid, and the settling is scarcely perceptible. Here the sections are crowded together by the weight of the pipe above, causing the ends to be forced up, and crushing the bells of the couplings. This gradual sinking is unquestionably caused by the ground being mined out, and the old timbers giving away under the great strain which is brought to bear upon them.

MILLINERY.—The ladies of Carson are notified elsewhere in this paper that a fine selection of hats, bonnets, ribbons and flowers will be placed on exhibition for their inspection next Saturday, March 31st, at the store of Mrs. Peninger, on Carson street, near the south of Mrs. Shoyer's store. These articles are importations from Paris, and are offered at reasonable rates.

Miss TRAWALLA, who was seriously injured by falling from a swing in Virginia City last Christmas, is to have a benefit at National Guard Hall on the night of April 4. The Virginia Glee Club, the Washington Band and other volunteers will give a concert. It promises to be a great success.

Is it Old Probabilities Friend, returning home from the Bay who has brought with him this sudden shifting of the wind and this threatening weather? The circumstances are against him.

Mr. E. E. Parkinson has returned from his visit to San Francisco. He looks in rugged health.

An Historical Picture.

When Mr. C. E. Watkins was here taking photographic views, he trained his camera on Carson street, taking his point of observation at or near the Occidental Hotel. The picture as printed from the negative thus obtained includes Fox's building, the ornamental architectural surroundings of Frisbie's old corner, the sun shades and awning flaps which depend from the variegated balconies extending in promiscuous array there along, and, beyond these attractive objects, the stately proportions of the Ormsby House and the small pagoda on top of the St. Charles. But the chief point of attraction, like the world in Peter Parley's almanac, "seems swinging in the air." It is that instructive, interesting and now happily historical piece of fresco-work, the Democratic Club's campaign banner, bearing the legend of Reform, and adorned, past all banishing, with the counterfeit pretensions of the two ex-Governors who led the phalanx of their party up to the gates of the balladom, Tilden and Hendricks. There they float in mid air, the gods of a New Departure, the representatives of a fraternal compromise between the limping greenback of expansion and the chinking double-angle of reclamation, dominating the autumnal scene. Thus are nature, art and politics combined in one harmonious whole, and Tilden and Hendricks, like Jim Blaine, are saved by a timely and Providential sun-stroke.

WEATHERMEN.—The indications are that we are about to have a violent change in the weather. Indeed we have had already a change, and as it could not be a change for the better it is a change for the worse, so far as comfort goes. The hope which rises at the sound of wind and the sight of clouds is that there is a storm coming that will replenish the stock of snow in the mountains and fill up our shallow streams. But we are very dubious of such a visitation. We think it very likely there will be a flurry of snow and a shower of rain, but while the water-supply will receive no material benefit, the succeeding frosts will make everybody very uncomfortable and freeze up all our promising and venturesome fruit buds. But we have had a month of delightful weather, and possibly our real March storms are yet in store. From Captain Fray who came down from the Lake yesterday we learn that there was a light fall of snow on the Western summit yesterday forenoon. In the afternoon the storm seemed to be driving along from the mountains and if the wind did not blow it to pieces last night we may have quite a fall of rain or snow to-day.

THE GRAND MAQUERADE, Skating Carnival and Exhibition of Fantasy Skating, which was advertised to take place next Friday night, has been postponed for one week—until Friday night, April 6. The postponement was rendered necessary by reason of the inability of the manager to secure the services of a costumer from San Francisco in time for the exhibition at an earlier date. This delay will hardly be regretted on other accounts—one of which is that the 30th—the time first advertised—is Good Friday, and some persons who wish to participate in the Carnival would not be likely to attend on that date. We notice that extensive preparations are being made by the manager, and by many young ladies and gentlemen who will attend. Remember the postponement is until Friday night, the sixth of April. See advertisement.

A CHANCE TO LOAN MONEY at a good rate of interest—two per cent. per month, interest payable each month—on improve real estate, is brought to the notice of the readers of the APPEAL by an advertisement elsewhere. The property offered as security is ascertained to be worth three times the amount of the money required. For particulars apply to John D. Kersey.

The bell willed by the Curry Engine Company to the Carson District school has been placed in position in the belfry on top of the main building.

TRAMWAY BEFORE EASTER.—Service in St. Peter's church this afternoon at four o'clock.

MADAM'S MANICURE SALON preserves and restores the complexion; removes freckles, tan and sunburn; makes the skin soft, white and delicate. Its application cannot be detected. Mylind—only.

LYON'S KATHARON makes beautiful, glossy, lustrous hair; prevents its falling out or turning gray. It has stood the test of 40 years. Is charmingly perfumed, and has no rival. Mylind—only.

Notice to Fire Insurance Agents.

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR THE Insurance of the Capitol Building at Carson, and the State Library situated therein, will be received by the State Board of Capitol Commissioners at the Secretary of State's office up to Saturday, April 7th, 1877.

When they will be opened. Agents are requested to state the rate at which they will effect such insurance for two, three and four years. The amount of Insurance required is $100,000 on the Capitol Building and $50,000 on the State Library, and will only be given to companies who have complied with the laws of this State. Payment will be made in State Warrents; that there is a certainty of cashing December 1st, 1877. The Board reserve the right to reject any and all proposals. Such proposals may cover the whole or any part of the risk.

NOTICE.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE Carson River Water Company will be held at the Office of J. W. HAYES & CO., Carson City, Nevada, on Thursday, the 29th day of April, next. By order of the Board.
A. J. HUNTER, Secretary.
Carson, March 26, 1877.

TELEGRAPHIC.

PATERSON, N. J., March 27.—The St. Charles Hotel burned this morning. The guests had a narrow escape, some jumping from the windows.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—The Mutual Protective Company, on the co-operative plan, has made an engagement for the benefit of its creditors.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 27.—Senator Morton and Thomas H. Nelson, late Minister to Mexico, arrived from Washington this morning. Morton will remain here till June.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Last night a fire destroyed a building on Illinois street, owned and occupied by Stoltz & Woltz as a furniture manufactory. Total loss, $17,000; insurance, $7,000.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The failure of the cotton-house of Isaac Lom & Co. of Liverpool has brought down the house of Falconer, billbroker in this city, who did a large business with the Liverpool firm.

The Express says the Pacific Mail Company is preparing a statement, which will be out to-morrow. It was officially stated this afternoon that the relations between this company and the Pacific railroad are as amicable as they have been for some time past.

On Good Friday, the 30th instant, all the exchanges will suspend business by common consent, except the Produce Exchange. The day will also be duly observed in all foreign markets.

CINCINNATI, March 27.—A meeting of the creditors of J. L. Keck & Brothers was held this afternoon. The liabilities of the firm are stated at nearly $400,000 and assets about the same. It is expected that an arrangement will be reached by which the firm will pay in full in time.

TOPEKA, Kansas, March 27.—A shooting affray occurred between J. Clark Swayne, editor of the Blade, and John Watson, formerly of the Topeka Times this evening. The former was shot dead and the latter received a slight flesh wound.

ALBANY, Col., March 27.—George W. Adair, real estate agent, suspended to-day. Liabilities, $14,000; assets large.

TUCSON, Arizona, March 26.—The Star prints the following: "Following is a correct copy of the original order given concerning the Mountain Meadows massacre. The order with three affidavits authenticating it was found among the papers of the late ex-Chief Justice Titus of Arizona, and formerly Chief Justice of Utah."

Special Order, Salt Lake City, April 19, 1857.—The officer in command of the escort is hereby ordered to see that every man is well prepared with ammunition, and to have it ready at the time you see those teams 100 miles from a settlement. President Young advises that they should all be killed to prevent their returning to Bridger to join our enemy. Every precaution should be taken to see that not one escapes. Secrecy is required. By order of General Daniel H. Wells.

Assistant Adjutant General. The original order, with the affidavits, are in my possession, and I have had frequent conversations with the late Judge Titus, my former law partner, in regard to the matter, and he never doubted the genuineness of the order or of the guilt of Brigham Young.

NEW YORK, March 28.—The Times' special from Washington says: During the day the President had an extended interview with Chamberlain and others regarding the South Carolina case. In each instance he manifested the greatest sympathy with Southern Republicans and the strongest desire to stand by them and secure their political and personal rights; but at the same time he appears to be equally anxious to do this in such a way as to command the approval of reasonable men on both sides. His consultation plan is based on ideas of justice to both parties, and not a surrender of rights of Southern Republicans for the sake of obtaining peace, which the Democracy promise to give. His attention seems to be directed most of all to ascertaining in what way justice to Southern Republicans can be combined with conciliation toward Southern Democrats. The President's object in bringing Chamberlain and Hampton to Washington seems to be to put them upon their patriotic, with a view of discovering some possible solution of the difficulties which will not be regarded by either party as a surrender of its rights, and which will still make it possible for the National Administration to take no further active part in the settlement of affairs in South Carolina. The President believes that a settlement made in this way would be not only beneficial to the State of South Carolina, but more satisfactory to the people of the country generally than would recognition by him of either Chamberlain or Hampton. There is reason to believe that the President's feelings towards Hampton and his Southern advisers have softened considerably recently. He has made every effort in his power to conciliate the friends of both Nicholls and Hampton, and gone out of his way to find means to help them out of their difficulties. In doing this he has invited genuine and adverse criticism of a portion of his own party, and in every case the men whom he was trying to aid have met his advances with an almost instant assertion of what they are pleased to call their rights.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—I. F. M.—A number of prominent citizens, representatives of the press and officers of the Order of Oddfellows met last night to examine the Constitution, manuals and instructions of that Order, by the invitation of the Secretary of the Executive Committee, F. B. Dorsey. The investigation failed to show anything resembling the statements recently published, purporting to be extracts from the Constitution of the Order, and rejecting unlawful courses towards Chinese, but proved the Order to be vitally a vast labor exchange, seeking to remedy the Chinese evil, by hastening the progress of the brotherhood for the purpose of using the Order as a labor exchange. Letters from Chico show by the confusion of John Bligh that the recent manner, immunities and other outrages to that vicinity were concerted in due form by an association known as the Laborers' Union.

WASHINGTON, March 28.—Senator Cochrill of Missouri had an interview with the President yesterday as regards the Louisiana case. He says there is an impression bordering on conviction among the President and his Cabinet, that neither Nicholls nor Packard has any legal right to recognition in Louisiana.

OF LOUISIANA, however the State law requiring the vote for Governor and Lieutenant Governor to be approved by the Legislature has not been complied with in either case. Cochrill thinks the President will order a new election.
